I would like to acknowledge the inspiration provided by the research collected by Jeff Brown and other members of the Ethiopian Zion Coptic Church originally presented in a 38 page booklet, MARIJUANA AND THE BIBLE. The authors of GREEN GOLD gratefully acknowledge Jeff's valuable contributions to this important line of research.

And a special thanks to co-authors and editors Lynn & Judy Osburn, for their tireless work on this project and for taking an interest when many of the ideas contained in GREEN GOLD were only just formulating. A special thanks also to their daughters, Jesse and Heather, for putting up with having their home invaded for a book writing, and their front room turned into a loud arena of religious debate.

Thank you also to Carl Olsen, Scott Logan, Robert Lawrence, Eric Skidmore, Mike Maccabee, Neil McQueen, David Aplegath, Larry Wells, Walt Wojcizek, Thomas Lytle, Shad Caine, Peter Schultze, Doc Sumach, Ian Hunter, Terrence McKenna, Chris Conrad, Jack Herer, Paul Defelice, Dennis Shields, Tom Brown, Guy Mount, the Brothers and Sisters of The Church of the Universe and others for their thoughtful, informative correspondences and conversations.

Special thanks to Aaron Marshal, for his beautiful cover painting, a picture that most certainly says a thousand words.

And a very special thanks to my wife, lover, friend and partner Tracy Chester-Bennett.

Mithra Did not have professional hereditary priesthood - Chris Bennett

Very special thanks to the Divinities that inspired what has transpired in this volume; we thank Them for the revelation, especially for the use of Their clarifying incense.

Special thanks to George Clayton Johnson, author of eight Twilight Zone episodes, Twilight Zone (the movie), Logan's Run (book and movie), Star Trek, Kung Fu, Oceans Eleven and others, for enthusiastically writing his wonderful Afterword in the true Spirit of GREEN GOLD.

And many thanks to Jack Herer and H.E.M.P. for the use of their office and high resolution scanner, and the loan of their laser printer when ours broke down as the publishing deadline nears.

281 - Egyptian religion, ambitious, obvious, "nothing less than the quest and prescription for the release of humanity's nascent divinity."

Twenty-three years ago I began the study of Cannabis sativa, marijuana, as hemp in industry, medicine and religion. One of the big surprises for me was how virtually every religion of the Old World, from early Pantheism to Hinduism; from the Buddhists, Zoroastrians, Essenes; the Jewish, Christian, Moslem, Sufi, Theraputae of Egypt, to the Bantus, Zulus, Hottentots, etc. of Africa; all used cannabis/hemp for fiber, food, oil, medicine, and as one of their sacred religious catalysts. For the majority of our ancient ancestors cannabis was the most important sacrament to commune with their gods; for most of the rest, it was their second or third most important drug/sacrament.

Method was the divine food

Tell The Jury

Hemp drugs were a ritual link with the gods themselves. For example the incense burners of the Jewish temples, filled with cannabis, hash, oils, etc., would swing back and forth into parishioners' faces causing them to perceive things much differently. Hemp as incense was cooked and eaten or heated and smoked.

Throughout my studies of the religious pasts of marijuana for THE EMPEROR, I wondered how far someone could go in telling the myths and religious uses of psychedelic substances, e.g., magic mushrooms, cannabis, blue water lilies, mandrake, etc. Lynn and Judy Osburn (the main editors of THE EMPEROR from 1990 on) and Chris Bennett have done the most important and remarkable job of delving into the history of the sacramental use of cannabis, and proving that indeed virtually all our religions were based on drug induced initiation. To initiate one with cannabis or magic mushrooms was the rite of passage in most sects.

No one has done a better nor more comprehensive job of proving the importance, indeed the necessity, of cannabis in religion. No where has more scholarship been done to prove that hemp was the number one or two sacrament for the majority of humanity's religions. Today this knowledge of hemp as a sacrament has been

I predict to virtually everyone who reads GREEN GOLD THE TREE OF LIFE: MARIJUANA IN MAGIC & RELIGION that this book will become one of your favorite gifts of this year or any year in the future, for all your relatives, friends, and loud religious fanatics too. With the proof of cannabis ingestion as magic in religion after religion exquisitely offered herein, coupled with the comprehensive information about hemp's 25,000 uses as earth's number one plant, it won't be long until millions throw off the yoke of religious repression against the plants of the gods.

Introduction
All the religions of humanity eventually flow into the Mystery of One-Spirit that inspires humans with Revelation that carries us beyond the slow pace of physical evolution into the Hyperborean Youniverse of cultural evolution. If this Revelation of creative inspiration ever fails us we will devolve in retrograde fashion back into the dreamtime of nonreflecting response to environmental cause and effect devoid of culture. Inspiration is the Light of Mind and Revelation is the Meaning in the Light. Light, Mind, Revelation and Meaning, we have called God or Goddess by various names since the Psychic experiment began.

The physical evidence of antiquity reveals that about 12,000 years ago humans in the Near East were inspired to make a fundamental change in behavior which initiated the accelerated accumulation of knowledge leading to the present, where we behold cyberspace, the artificial universe created by Man. Even so cyberspace obeys the fundamental law of the universe—the law of numbers.

We do not know for sure how it started, but humans gave up the nomadic life of advanced hunter-gathers and began to settle in certain fertile locations to till the soil and plant food crops. Twelve thousand year old wooden reaping knives with flint blades were found in Palestine. Eleven thousand years ago sheep were domesticated in the northern Tigris Valley. By the middle of the seventh millennium BCE<sup>1</sup> a fertility cult (religion) had developed at Catal Huyuk in Turkey. The people there worshipped a fertility goddess whom they represented in the act of giving birth to a man, a bull and a ram. The wealth of those people depended on mining black obsidian from the neighboring mountains and making tools from it. Catal Huyuk was a comparatively large and stable settlement in the new age of cultural evolution. It was inhabited without interruption
