The Instructor may bring someone to assist in their presentation. That person shall gain free entry for the day of their presentation.

By Chuck Ream, 1/7/2010

My proposal is that we should have two large rooms where paid classes are going on and one large room where there will be public speakers (on generally useful topics of interest that pertain to this conference – topics which people may not want to pay for).

A three ring circus is enough for me.

I assume we are using Auditorium 1 and 2 and the Elizabeth Ann II room (I don't think we will need Elizabeth Ann I.)

PROPOSED CLASSES AND TEACHERS WHICH WILL COST $25 TO ATTEND. (Greg has to be paid for his work to bring things this far)

28.) A Doctor from your group to do a "How to become a qualifying patient" workshop.

A good program could still be put together but time is of the essence

(for overflow parking try EMU, and the Rynearson stadium lot, & the WCC community college, and the professional parking company that parking in Ann Arbor has been contracted out to -- or other professional parking companies)

I would like to intensively proceed with this educational program, but first I need a few things.

1.) Greg has to be paid $5000. I can't just steal his work.

2.) I need to see the signed contract showing that the audio and visual at Eaglecrest will be professionally run...by the company they use. I can't run it and I have to be confident about it

3.) I need a letter or contract, signed and in writing, which says that all speakers will get $200, and they could choose to get half of the revenue that is generated by their class.

(On a related matter, it is imperative that a message be sent to the MMMA on Friday, either at the press conference or some other way, that addresses their concerns about the article and the portrayal of caregivers in it)

Thanks Jamie, Darryl, and Anthony... let's do it Chuck Ream Jan 7, 2010
