GREETINGS from The Ohio Hempery staff! Our company has been in the midst of re-vamping and this catalog reflects our new direction. Consensus here at the Hempery is that we want to focus on the health benefits of Hemp. So this year's Fall/Winter catalog features the premiere of a new line of Hemp Seed and Hemp Seed Oil products. We all had a great time sampling our new goodies and we hope that you enjoy them as well! Thank you for your continued support. Happy Holidays!

Hemp seed oil's impressive fatty acid composition and high performance moisturizing emollients make it an ideal ingredient for both dry hair and scalp conditions. In hair-care products, Hemp seed oil can impart gloss and manageability to hair and bring relief from dry scalp. Due to its superior EFA profile which closely resemble the skin's natural lipids, Hemp seed oil, when topically applied, replenishes skin with these essential components, thus increasing moisture retention.

For years we were the entrepreneurs in the market that had to talk about how inferior their products were. When we were importing hemp seeds from China, we had no control over their production or freshness. We knew how delicious and nutritious hemp seeds were, but could only advocate how much better they could be if we could produce them here at home. Canada has welcomed hemp production and expects an agricultural and economic bonanza as a result. So, finally, we are ready.

This catalog offers our own production of fresh, kosher certified hemp seeds and oil products. If you have not tried hemp seeds lately, we urge you to try them again. The difference is amazing. Now, if only we could convince our own government to take the shackles off the U. S. farmers...
