Source attended mass meeting of the HUMAN RIGHTS PARTY at Father Richard Center. Discussion of candidates in Wards 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 was the biggest topic. Great deal of conflict within the party as whether or not to run candidates in all Wards or in 1 and 2 only. Generally decided to run in all Wards during the primary with concentrated efforts in Wards 1, 2, and 4. Run Wards 3 and 5 as educational elections only. Candidates wishing to run are to let Chuck Ream, w/m, Dob: 6/10/51, of the party know at the December mass meeting. MARGO NICHOLS, w/f, Dob: 10/6/43, is one candidate, possibly MIKE DOVER, w/m, Dob: 9/10/48, and a bunch of other "maybe's". Disbanded for 1/2 hour to collect signatures on petitions at movie lines. If they don't get enough signatures for referendum vote, they actually have no issues for their party. There were 40-50 present and quite a number of new faces. SUSAN STEIGERWALT, Dob: 7/30/52, said they will start to be active now since it is election time. BOB HEFNER, w/m, 12/23/50 is trying to talk party into making some kind of deal with Democrats regarding who runs a strong candidate in different Wards for Mayor, Council, and School Board.

Disbanded about 10:00 PM to go to the Rubaiyat. They invited MIKE DOVER and source to go to the Rubaiyat with them so they went along to find out what was happening. They got there ahead of most of the others so were seated in a different area. Many of the customers that were already there left shortly after this other group arrived. Not all were HUMAN RIGHTS PARTY members, many outsiders. They were generally rowdy and crowded around tables and sat on floor and ledges. The manager was obviously upset and asked several of them to find seats. Most just ignored him. Due to affectionate display and close dancing, it is no wonder the management was uptight. Two or three couples came in, but left when they saw the dancing going on. Most of the people just order drinks, but last night nearly all ordered a meal of some type. There was also a reporter there with camera and some of the girls were upset at having pictures taken. Source left about 12:15 and things were going strong then. Source believes a lot of business is being lost.

SPECIAL REGISTRATION ISSUE

RENT CONTROL, $5 MARIJUANA LAW NET 6,000 NAMES EACH

PETITION DRIVES OVER THE TOP! APRIL BALLOT SPOTS LIKELY

Six months of research, organizing, and sweat came to a climax Monday, December 31st when the Human Rights Party turned in Charter Amendment petitions to the City Clerk. Over 6000 registered voters signed the petition calling for the reinstatement of the five dollar marijuana fine and 6500 signed the rent control petition.

We now await the decision of the City Clerk as to whether the necessary 3670 valid registered voter signatures have been garnered to get the proposals on the ballot. This is not a foregone conclusion, since many people apparently think that illegible signatures are a mark of distinction. If the necessary names have been gathered, the amendments will be sent to Lansing. Governor Milliken will then have the opportunity to express his outrage, but his disapproval (which we expect) has no legal force. Attorney General Kelley must also approve the wording of the ballot question so that it is not deceptive.

In the mean time, the real work begins—campaigning for the support of Ann Arbor voters. The outlook is hopeful, considering the terrific and totally unprecedented response to the petition drives. But 16,000 votes (at least) will be needed to pass the proposals. In any event, both issues will provide opportunities to organize people on an unprecedented scale. Win or lose, we have already gone far to raise the consciousness of thousands of people.

Unfortunately, the pay for City Council proposal had to be temporarily officer in the CIA-backed "Bay of Pigs" invasion and a sponsor of at least one proposal to assassinate Castro. Nixon was himself the White House action officer within the Eisenhower Administration for the Bay of Pigs action. Another of the burglars, Eugenio Martinez, was still on CIA retainer when caught and had been a vice president of Keyes Realty until 1971. Keyes Realty, a Miami business with underworld connections (the IRS in 1948 suspected that the funds used by the firm to purchase large tracts of Key Biscayne land had belonged to "Luciano and other underworld characters"), has helped both Rebozo and Nixon in various land deals at bargain rates.

So it would seem that the chain leading from crime to cover-up to new crime has occurred over decades and administrations, and it has become a major preoccupation of the man who still sits in the White House.

The crimes of our present and past presidential leaders cover the globe as well as the decades. These crimes are committed to protect the foreign investments of U.S. corporations. In Cuba, increasingly in Panama, in Vietnam and much of oil-rich Southeast Asia, and in Chile our government has overtly or covertly involved itself militarily under the guise of Protecting freedom-loving countries from Communism-- but only after it became obvious that U.S. exploitation of raw materials and labor would not be tolerated by popular governments. While professing to support the traditional American ideals of freedom, dignity, and justice for all, our government has inflicted great pain and injustice on peoples abroad and at home. It was perhaps inevitable that such practices would be brought to play in the election of the president of the U.S. as in the Watergate conspiracy.

Impeaching Nixon for his actions won't bring about freedom, dignity and justice. It will likely only bring us Gerald Ford and flunkey promises of "better government." The impeachment movement will, however, educate people in the ways of organizing outside the two "major" parties to demand redress of grievances from a government that is literally out of control.

companies who own the majority of uranium deposits just fine, but posing a serious unresolved problem of transportation and disposal of radioactive nuclear wastes. Nixon has, in fact, already decided to turn the control of atomic power plant emission standards to the Atomic Energy Commission, rather than EPA.

Independent gas dealers, along with the environment, are breathing their last. The major oil companies contend that they are obligated to distribute gas to their own name brand stations first, giving only the excess to the independents. No excess, no independents; no independents, no competition; and at this point, prices can be jacked up as fast as the price per gallon meter can be readjusted.

Finally, having staked out positions in both the coal industry and nuclear power in the 1960's, the oil companies are using the shortage as justification for alternative sources of energy, and higher prices for oil as a means for insuring that that prices for alternative sources of energy will be "competitive"--that is, they will be able to make the same rip-off profits. The idea is to strip-mine the West, selling the low-sulphur coal to electric utilities and channelling the rest into synthetic gas or oil. Although technically possible since the 1950's, the industry has been unwilling to undertake the project until prices for other fuels rose--preferring instead to concentrate its efforts on pressuring the Federal Power Commission to de-regulate the price of natural gas. Repeatedly the oil and gas industry have presented the government with artificially low estimates of reserves, until eventually the price of natural gas was permitted to rise by over 50%. Predictably though, no new supplies of gas were discovered.
