Preface

Is the "Holy Bible" holy? Is it "the word of God"? And can it be disproved?

There is nothing "holy" about the Bible, nor is it "the word of God." It was not written by God-inspired saints, but by power-seeking priests. Who but priests consider sin the paramount issue? Who but priests write volumes of religious rites and rituals? No one, but for these priestly scribes sin and rituals were imperatives: their purpose was to found on them an awe-inspiring religion. By this intellectual tyranny they sought to gain control, and they achieved it. By 400 B.C. they were the masters of ancient Israel. For so great a project they needed a theme, a framework, and this they found in the Creation lore of more knowledgeable races. This they commandeered and perverted—the natural to the supernatural, and truth to error. The Bible is, we assert, but priest-perverted cosmology.

The process began with the very first chapter—the world's creation. This first was not the original first: it is priestly cosmology substituted centuries later and for a priestly purpose. The original first was written by the same hand as the second. To scholars its author is known as the Jhwhist, a by no means pious mythologist. He was the Hebrew Homer, and as with the Greek, his God was never meant to be worshiped. His characters, including God, are personifications, and through them he tells us plainly the true nature of Causation: fratricidal Cain,
